

From: Deibert, Pat
To: Rob Roy Ramey
Bcc: nicole\_alt@fws.gov
Subject: Re: quick question
Date: Monday, September 30, 2013 10:18:44 AM

---

Hello Rob -

To my knowledge there has not been a formal PECE review of any conservation plans since the 2005 determination. That is simply because there has not been a need on our behalf to conduct a review - as we have not had to make a final listing determination since 2005.

While I did review several conservation efforts submitted for the 2010 finding, since there was no final listing determination a full-fledged PECE analysis was not conducted.

Please let me know if you have any further questions!

Pat

On Mon, Sep 30, 2013 at 8:53 AM, Rob Roy Ramey <robroyrameyi@gmail.com> wrote:

Pat,

I figure that I had better get this question to before the shutdown:

Have there been any local or state conservation plans for greater sage grouse approved under the PECE policy since the 2005 decision? If so, where would I find those plans?

Many thanks,
Rob Roy Ramey

--

Pat Deibert
National Sage-grouse Conservation Coordinator
U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
5353 Yellowstone Road, Suite 308A
Cheyenne, WY 82009
307-772-2374, ext. 226

got leks?