Hi Andy:

Your nomination has been accepted. The regional office would like for you to finish the online application and prepare the award recommendation for Ren's signature.

Your write-up gives the basic information for the nomination, but the online form wants the information clearly broken into the three evaluation criteria (scientific contribution; scientific application; extraordinary results), You also need to prepare a DI-451 (signed by AD or RD), citation, and find an image. They also request supporting documentation (if that makes sense).

Good luck. It's due on November 9th.

Feel free to get in touch with any questions. I'm taking an NCTC class this week (Tues - Thursday), but will check my Blackberry for phone calls or emails at break times.

Subject OPPORTUNITY: Call for Nominations - 2012 FWS
Science Awards - [Due Date: November 1, 2012]

Here's an opportunity for two Science Awards: For scientific excellence and for scientific leadership. The winners gets an honorary award, but the winning offices get $50,000 for its science program for one year. See the call for nominations below, and the link which directs you to specific formats and criteria for the awards.

Submit any draft nominations to Sallie Hejl by November 1 -- do not submit directly to the sharepoint. Sallie will coordinate any refuge nominees, and since each region can only submit two nominees, we will need to prioritize the nominees with other Service programs.

Marge - I am not aware that we do at SF Bay, and coincidentally this Humboldt issue came up in staff mtg this morning because Doug is sending our Farallon mouse eradication rodenticide talking points to those folks to help craft a response, so I would have thought if we did use avicide, someone would have brought it up. I am copying John here in case I'm wrong.

Subject OPPORTUNITY: Call for Nominations - 2012 FWS
Science Awards - [Due Date: November 1, 2012]

Here's an opportunity for two Science Awards: For scientific excellence and for scientific leadership. The winners gets an honorary award, but the winning offices get $50,000 for its science program for one year. See the call for nominations below, and the link which directs you to specific formats and criteria for the awards.

Submit any draft nominations to Sallie Hejl by November 1 -- do not submit directly to the sharepoint. Sallie will coordinate any refuge nominees, and since each region can only submit two nominees, we will need to prioritize the nominees with other Service programs.
