Cindy,

Thanks for the monitoring report. As we discussed, the contractor is working on the NEPA documents and is not under contract for the project implementation. I'm sorry I don't have all of the project details available to address your concerns. I do think it will probably be more efficient for you to discuss your concerns with both Gerry McChesney, the refuge manager, and Barbara Goodyear, the SOL. I have included them on this email so that you can coordinate a call among the three of you. In the past, Sonce was pretty involved in the planning process for this project so I am glad that we now have your experience and expertise.

Hi Carolyn,

I was thinking about our telephone conversation on September 13, and realized that I had not taken notes for myself other than to note that you would share the draft EIS for the Farallon Is. eradication when it was ready in a few months. That way, if I had any questions, i could raise them earlier rather than later in the process. Regarding the question I had of the ngo preparing the EIS on contract to the Service and then also being the contractor to execute the project, I recall you said a solicitor had looked into this. Would you pass along the SOL's contact information so that I could talk with that person directly? While I think you told me who it was, I did not write it down.

I'll look for the draft EIS in the coming months, and the final USDA Wildlife Services report on the Palmyra Eradication conducted last year is now available. [attachment "USDA Palmyra Atoll Monitoring Final Report.pdf" deleted by Carolyn Marn/SAC/R1/FWS/DOI]

Many thanks,
Cindy
