Response to Farallones Webinar Q&A.docx;

Feedback here has also been good too.

Sending out responses to the Q&A is another opportunity for us to message the folks who registered for the webinar. Interestingly, the questions appear to be all from people who support the plan and would like more information. There was not one overtly negative question.

I have aggregated the 86 questions posed into 20 categories. I will be setting up a collaborative Google Docs site with those questions for us to write responses. Attached please find a draft document with my attempts to respond to some of the questions. I will be looking forward to working with our team on this.

Hi folks, in my own experience I have never heard of anyone following up by compiling and answering questions and sending to registrants. I just wanted to offer that perspective.

By the way I've gotten positive feedback on the webinar from various folks including AudCA board member, other ornithologists, etc.

I do have concerns about soliciting more questions. With written answers, they will need to be carefully done. Providing misinformation could be very damaging. Answering all the questions that could come in could become a MAJOR chore and I'm not sure who has the time to do that. I certainly do not. Just providing written answers to the questions already posed will be a lot of work and cannot be taken lightly. I feel it will be important for me to have a chance to review and I'm sure I will need to run some answers by others.

Of course, many answers can be found in the Final EIS. A link to the EIS should be provided as well.

Hi All,

I chatted with Barbara this morning and this is what will go out to attendees and those that registered, but didn't attend this evening (Zoom says it sends a day after the end time of the webinar... so I assume around 8pm?) via Zoom.

Hi [User Name],

Thank you for attending Farallon Islands Mouse Eradication Program. We hope you enjoyed our event.

Please submit your questions or comments to: bsalzman48@gmail.com.

We regret not having enough time to answer more of your questions during the webinar. Rest assured, though, we are currently compiling and answering them and will be sharing that information with you in the coming weeks.

Again, we encourage you to show your support for the restoration of the Farallon Island ecosystem by sending a letter to the Coastal Commission. You can visit www.pointblue.org/farallonrestoration or check Marin Audubon's website in the next week or so at www.marinaudubon.org for guidance on how to do so.

Lastly, here is a link to the recording of the webinar for viewing again and sharing: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zXd1Fw9XIAI>. We'll have it up on our respective websites soon as well.

Good morning, Barbara!

I've included screen shots of what the stock text is for follow up emails to those who attended and those who registered, but did not attend. I would suggest adding

- a reminder of how we said folks can help (go to the link to send a letter to the CC and/or contact Marin Audubon for follow-up questions
- a link to the recording
- a message letting folks know that we will be working to compile, answer, and share via another email many of the questions that were not answered at the end of our webinar (Roger has volunteered to help with this and Zach is providing info to him to do so)

How does that sound? Anything else? It looks like you can't edit the minimal stock text they provide. You can only add text to it. I know you are busy at 12, so can you reply before so I can edit before it sends this evening? You can call me at 415-200-7955 to discuss if that's easier. If that's too crunched, we can hold off on the follow up emails until up to 7 days after the event (so Monday or Tuesday, maybe?). Alternately, I can turn off the option to send auto emails and you can use the spreadsheets I sent and work with your folks at MAS to compose your own follow-up email. Let me know.

Best,

Lishka

Hi Lishka,

If you could call after 8:30 and before Noon would be great., I have something at noon that will go two hours.

What is their stock language?

I'd like to get a link to the recording on our website.

Zach said you that Pt. Blue has a YouTube account. I know nothing about getting anything on YouTube.

Many thanks

Barbara

It's built in to the zoom webinar function, so I'll just check in to see what you'd like to share besides their stock language and I'll figure out how we share the recording with that. Zach and I also discussed and plan to share the recording on YouTube and we can coordinate with you on that.
